Dear Parent/Carer

The Met Office has upgraded the Storm Eunice Weather Warning for tomorrow (Friday 18 February) to RED. This is due to the significant disruption and dangerous conditions predicted due to extremely strong winds resulting in the following:

- Flying debris resulting in danger to life
- Damage to buildings and homes, with roofs blown off and power lines brought down
- Uprooted trees are likely
- Roads, bridges and railway lines closed, with delays and cancellations to bus, train, ferry services and flights
- Power cuts affecting other services, such as mobile phone coverage
- Large waves and beach material thrown onto coastal roads, sea fronts and homes, including flooding of some coastal properties.

As a result of the warning Newport City Council have advised all schools to move to a blended learning model and shut the school to all students and staff.

Therefore, The John Frost School will be closed on Friday 18 February 2022.

Staff will deliver Friday's lessons through Teams via Hwb.

I look forward to students returning to school after the half term break on Monday 28 February.

Yours sincerely

Mr M Tucker
